What is a Health Data Utility (HDU)?

- An HDU is a not-for-profit organization with information exchange at its core and multi-stakeholder governance, which, through its mission and function, seeks to meet the comprehensive health data delivery and analytics needs of a state's public and private sectors.

An HDU definition should not constitute a binary litmus test for whether an organization is or is not an HDU

BUT…every state should have an HDU, and every state has a different set of circumstances
